

A Night to Go Counting Stars

While everyone slept, a little teddy bear quietly slipped out the door.

Walking a Soft Mossy Path

Soft moss underfoot welcomes the night walk.

Light Twinkling Through the Branches

Through gaps in the treetops, the jewels of the distant night sky peek out.

Counting the Stars One by One

Reaching out, the bear carefully counts them one by one along the Milky Way.

Sleepiness Creeps In

Before all the constellations are counted, the bear's eyelids grow heavy.

Falling Asleep with Starlight

With a heart full of stars, the bear drifts off to cozy dreamland.
