

A Night of Counting Stars

On a sleepless night, a little bear sets off into the forest.

Wide Awake

Even under the cozy blanket, sleep just wouldn't come.

Walking into the Night Forest

He walks carefully, following the rustle of the leaves.

A Sky Full of Stars

Stars were pouring across the night sky like jewels.

Counting Stars One by One

One star, one yawn, and slowly his eyelids grow heavy.

Drifting Off to Sleep

Wrapped in warm starlight like a blanket, he drifts into happy dreams.
